Water way to have fun!

Water, underfoot, in the air, everywhere, is welcome sight when thermometer gets stuck in 90's as it has been this summer. Denise Boden expresses dismay, but her friends bravely face hose operator providing cooling mist before water enthusiasts take a dip. Every plus 90 day spells new record of local public beaches and pools. Summer of 1988 is going into record books for both drought and number of 90 and plus 100 degree days.—Photo by John Doetsch.

Name Parish postmaster for Antioch

Jerry D. Parish, a 25-year postal veteran who is now manager of customer services at the Hinsdale/Oak Brook Post Office, has been named postmaster at Antioch.

"I am delighted to have received this appointment, and I look forward to continue providing good mail service to residents and businesses in Antioch," Parish said.

Charles L. Caton, field division general manager/postmaster for the North Suburban Division of the U.S. Postal Service, said the appointment became effective Saturday, Aug. 13.

"We are pleased to have been able to select a manager with Jerry Parish's experience to head postal operations in the Antioch area," Caton said. "His background, training and outstanding performance as manager of customer services and earlier as officer-in-charge of the Harvey Post Office make him highly qualified for this position."

Parish will replace Stanley Luta, who was reassigned to the position of superintendent of postal operations at Wauconda. John Pieger, who has been officer-in-charge in the interim, will return to his regular assignment as superintendent of postal operations at Grayslake.

Before becoming manager of customer services at Hinsdale/Oakbrook, Parish had served as

Rizzo wins 1st round, gets his license back

Lake County detective, Ernie Rizzo reports that he got his license to operate back after a hearing in a State of Illinois courtroom with Judge Robert J. Curry on the bench, went his way.

Rizzo had his license revoked after Sally Wojtkiewicz, Antioch, charged Rizzo with running an illegal detective agency and using several different names and addresses in the Antioch area for illegal activities.

According to Rizzo, in returning his license to him, the judge said, "I have never seen such an abuse of power by the attorneys for the State of Ill. in taking the word of one woman. The state should have investigated the matter more thoroughly."

The $115,000 lawsuit that Rizzo filed in Lake County Court, ($15,000 in actual and $100,000 in punitive damages) against Wojtkiewicz, charging her with malicious harassment and making false defamatory and slanderous statements about himself in front of witnesses is expected to come up in court in approximately six weeks.

Rizzo further claimed that her "untrue" statements have caused him to be shunned by the community and be a victim of several burglaries, acts of vandalism and physical assaults.

Miller waits for OK

Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller may be returning to his job after a seven month sick leave if his doctor at St. Luke's in Milwaukee gives him the OK on Aug. 24.

According to Mayor Ray Toft, "Chuck looks super, his doctor in Waukegan says he can go back to work, so we're just waiting on the other doctor's decision."

Miller, who suffers from an irregular heartbeat, has been absent from the Antioch Police Dept. since February. After using up vacation and sick leave time, during which he received a regular paycheck, Miller was put on temporary disability which means he receives half pay.

Meanwhile Lt. Tom Fisher has been running the department under the auspices of Mayor Toft.

Toft tosses hat in ring

Antioch's incumbent mayor, Ray Toft, has officially announced that he will be a candidate for a fifth term in that position in next spring's election.

"I enjoy being in village government," said Toft after serving as trustee for four years and mayor for an intermittent 16 years.

Toft added that he would like to see expansion of the sewer plant take place and also be around to help "the controlled growth of Antioch."

Toft's stints as mayor were interrupted during the years in which Trustee Robert Wilton and Michael Haley served as mayor.

Shimer offers weekend college program

Shimer College in Waukegan has announced that its Weekend College Program for working adults will be meeting on the Waukegan campus.

Registrations are now being taken for Fall 1988 entrance. Weekend students may complete a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree in the normal four years; less time will be needed for students with transfer credit. Shimer offers a diverse and in-depth liberal arts curriculum featuring original source readings, small discussion classes, and personal attention for the adult student. The Shimer Weekend Program meets for seven weekends during a semester, leaving the adult student plenty of time for other commitments, such as jobs, families, and civic activities.

"Many adults put off completing a college degree," said Bobbie Groth, Director of Admissions, "because of the immense pressures of adding college work to their other job and family responsibilities. Shimer's Weekend Program is carefully designed to minimize scheduling stress and maximize support for the adult student - and to put them in classrooms where they are learning with other experienced adults. Adults who couldn't compete in the job market because they didn't have a degree find that they can get that degree without having to leave the job market to do so."

For more information on the Shimer Weekend Program contact Office of Admissions, Shimer College, PO Box A500, Waukegan, IL 60079, or call (312) 623-8400.

State investigates costs of road improvements

The Illinois Department of Transportation approved the design of 18 proposed highway improvement projects in northeastern Illinois. In addition, studies have been initiated for 16 other road improvement projects. In Lake County, three road improvement designs were approved while two studies are taking place.

A separate left-turn lane design was accepted for the traffic on Route 132 at Dilley Road and over the Tri-State Tollway. Also included, plans to resurface, widen, channelize, install a permanent signal, and replace deck overlay on bridge with concrete may cost a total of $1,250,000.

Plans to rehabilitate the bridge on Route 173 over the Fox River are tentatively scheduled for 1989-90, funds permitting. The estimated cost is $640,000.

An estimated $568,700 may go to widen, resurface, and modernize traffic signals at the Route 131 (Green Bay Road) and Wadsworth Road intersection. This is included in the current multi-year plan and is subject to the availability of funds.

Studies are being conducted regarding widening the structure and rehabilitating the substructure of Route 59 over Rollins Road and The Milwaukee Road, Fox Lake.

Need election judges

The Lake County Clerk's office is always looking for people interested in becoming election judges. "So we've designed an attractive brochure to recruit judges," announced Lake County Clerk Linda Hess. It will be inserted in everything we mail out of our office.

"We're hoping the brochure will catch the eye of Lake County residents and make them aware of how easy it is to become an election judge," she continued.

Toft in race

ANTIOCH -- Antioch's mayor for 16 years, Ray Toft, has officially announced that he will be a candidate for a fifth term as mayor in the coming spring election. Toft, who also served as village trustee before being elected mayor, and has also served as head of the Lake County Municipal league, said that he wants to be around as Antioch has "controled growth."

Showing progress

GRAYSLAKE ---The Village of Grayslake put its best foot forward Saturday when it conducted its third annual Grayslake Progress Tour. Business leaders, board members, developers and interested citizens attended the two-hour tour which showed off the village's developments and public improvements. According to a summary, the total value of construction presently in Grayslake is $75,760,000 excluding developments on the planning stage.

Lakes group forms

LINDENHURST---Following a devastating rating of 90 out of a possible 100 for Lake Linden by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, residents have formed the Lindenhurst Lakes Committee. Subcommittees have been formed to review possible solutions from dredging to algae control and public education. The 50 residents attending the first meeting were told the murky water is caused by lawn fertilizer, animal droppings, ducks in the lakes and storm water from surrounding streets.

Vandals hit school

GAGES LAKE---Woodland Dist. 50 officials are examining future steps after persons unknown vandalized the Woodland Junior High playground equipment. According to Woodland Business Mgr. Larry Johnson, vandals entered through the rear of the property July 29. They hit the school's backstop, benches and other equipment. Woodland Junior High, which is getting its roof repaired this summer, has also experienced window breaking.

Hear tax assessor

LINDENHURST---Township Tax Assessor Mike Karasinski has been asked to appear before the Village Board to explain assessment procedures and explain the so-called "neighborhood factor" he reportedly uses to value some areas of the village differently. He says this is not the case. Five different school districts within the village limits impact some residential areas differently than others, he says.

What students like

PRAIRIE VIEW---Students attending Roosevelt University's Lake County campus are most interested in business courses by taking classes leading to an undergraduate BGS degree or for a graduate MBA degree, a school survey shows. An open house for prospective students will be held Sunday, Aug. 21, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Stevenson High School. More than 65 percent of those returning to school are aided by an employer tuition reimbursement program.

Plan new post office

LAKE VILLA---Three acres of land have been purchased for a new post office northeast of the overcrowded downtown facility at 57 Cedar Ave. Construction of the planned 20,000-square-foot facility awaits funding by Congress for the new postal fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. The Lake Villa Post Office handles all public transactions at the main office and does sorting for 14 carrier routes at a former location at 67 Cedar Ave.

Luxury home project

GRAYSLAKE---Village trustees voted unanimously this week to annex 40 acres on the east side for a luxury home development that includes a small commercial sector on Rte. 120 and an area for upscale condominiums. Developer Tim Towne, who has other developments in Libertyville, said the homes will range up to $350,000. At a public hearing Monday, Towne promised to preserve a grove of 100-year-old trees and provide a greenbelt area as required by village ordinance.

Championship race

FOX LAKE---The Fox Lake Challenge 4-mile Swim is a national championship race this year for the Master Swimmers organization. The group organizes swimming events and races for people older than 24 in age categories reaching into the 90s. The race was designated a national championship after members of the organization who swam in the Fox Lake race last year nominated it for consideration. The oldest contestant registered is a 74-year-old Reno, Nev., woman. Entrants are expected from across the country for the race, which gets underway at 8 a.m. at Korpan's Landing.

OK settlement

WAUKEGAN---Would-be Warren Twp. homeowners victimized by developer Thomas McManus may be receiving 50 to 75 cents on the dollar. Lake County Associate Judge Stephen Walter Friday approved a conditional settlement. Asst. Atty. Gen. James Borrasso and Antioch Atty. Robert Long, who represented 85 people in a class action suit, said they were pleased with the settlement.

Supt. recovering

FOX LAKE---Fox Lake Grade School District 114 Supt. Ralph Stanton prepares for his 34th year in the district and his 10th as superintendent while he recovers from quadruple-bypass surgery performed July 27. The 6-foot-2, 290 pound Stanton, 57, attributes his heart trouble to his weight, but concedes that the stress of trying to balance an elementary district budget, with little state help, could have contributed.

Revising site plans

MUNDELEIN---A representative of Pulte Homes presented two revised concept plans for a development adjacent to the Tullamore subdivision, and residents of Tullamore spoke at a public hearing with concerns about the minimum lot sizes involved. They also expressed fears that homes which would be constructed would not be of the same quality as the ones they live in.

Lake County At A Glance

Park district grows

ROUND LAKE AREA---The Round Lake Area Park Dist. is expanding its recreational facilities, while improving some existing ones, with five separate major works going on simultaneously. Some of the projects are being constructed around the park district building, for which the park received $97,500 in matching grant funds from the State Dept. of Conservation. These projects are a soccer-football field, outdoor skating rink, a new playground, a park shelter, and the completed volleyball court and two horseshoe pits.

Motion disallowed

MUNDELEIN---A motion has been found without merit that charged that four Lake County supervisors are biased against the proposed landfill in Fremont Twp. and should not be allowed to vote on the issue. This is the word from Dist. 5 Rep. F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville, one of the supervisors named. The others are Dist. 6 Reps. Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich and C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington and Dist. 4 Rep. Norman Geary of Grayslake.

Areas designated

FOX LAKE---Two neighborhoods in Fox Lake have been designated by the Planning Commission for intense study as a means of developing a "master plan" for Fox Lake development. The area are "typical" of Fox Lake as a whole, according to Planning Commission Chairman John Erdman Jr. The master plan is expected to give Fox Lake a map for development that won't ruin existing neighborhoods.

Rain holds off until after Antioch Firemen's Day

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

There was no rain on the Antioch Fire Dept.'s 75th Anniversary Parade as the community gathered to salute some of Antioch's finest citizens. Rain did put in an appearance later on during the festivities, but thanks to the Lions' Pavillion, the day was not spoiled. Thanks again, men, to you and your families for your dedication.

Wasn't that a nice commemorative booklet the fire department sent to all of us in the mail? It sure made a big hit at our house with all the generations. It's one to keep.

Antioch School Dist. 34 will hold registration at all four schools from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 23, and Wednesday, Aug. 24. Fees are $16.50 for kindergarten plus $11 milk per semester and $27.50 for grades one through eight. Antioch Upper Grade School students pay an additional $8.75 towel fee.

Antioch High School students will register Aug. 23-26 at pre-scheduled times.

School officially begins on Monday, Aug. 29, for all students except ACHS freshmen, who attend on Friday, Aug. 26 for a shortened day of orientation. All

Notes & News

Speaking of keeping... You can't keep them young forever; they grow up in spite of us. This will be a busy week trying to get our college students back to their universities. Sending a kid to college these days, besides costing an arm and a leg, is like setting up a small apartment. They sure get you coming and going, don't they?

School bells will soon ring for the younger crowd, too. Reminder!! Emmons School Dist. 33 will hold registration 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday, Aug. 22, and Tuesday, Aug. 23, at the school office. Fees are $16 for kindergarten plus $11 milk fee, and $25 grades one through eight.

mothers can be seen celebrating the event by eating breakfast out with their friends in our fine local restaurants.

Remember the good old days when the circus came to town? You can relive these memories with the family by attending the Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus coming to Antioch on Aug. 25 for one day only.

Performances will be at 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. at the grounds of the Antioch Upper Grade School. Discount tickets are on sale by local Antioch Jaycee Club members, the show's sponsors. Thanks for the memories, guys!

Still no mosquitoes. Way to go! Keep Cool.

The 15-week course will cost $35 and one can register by appearing at the first class Aug. 31 in the high school art room at 7 p.m.

Bornstables Dept. Store welcomes customers with open arms but Sally Svoboda, 26, Bristol, forgot to park her car before accepting "come and shop" invitation. Svoboda was eastbound on Lake St., stopped for red light and proceeded forward instead of turning, right through the store's doors. She was cited for negligent driving.

Emmons board spends vacation on pupil hike

School topics haven't gone on vacation at Emmons School this summer. The Emmons School Board has been busy planning for the 1988-89 year and beyond.

The paramount task confronting the board is dealing with increased enrollment in a capacity-filled building. As short term solutions, the board has added the position of K-5 aide (Cynthia Theilen) to work in the K-5 classrooms, and has appointed JoAnne Fleshman as K-5 coordinator to assist with K-5 activities and tasks. Fleshman will also continue as fifth grade teacher at Emmons.

For the longer range solution to the Emmons growth, the board has formulated a timetable for the April, 1989, building expansion referendum.

Meetings in the fall will focus on the size and cost of the proposed addition. In January, the Emmons board will appoint a citizen's committee to recruit support for the referendum.

At its July meeting, the board adopted annual goals for the coming school year. Besides the tasks of planning for the future as described above, the goals are: to develop an emergency preparedness guide; to review the district insurance program; to expand supplementary reading at all grade levels and to evaluate the achievement testing program.

Goals are developed each year at Emmons through discussion by staff, superintendent and board members, and achievements are evaluated the following spring.

Jaycees to register local voters

Antioch Jaycee voter registrars will be located at the First National Bank of Antioch beginning Monday, Aug. 22. Lake County residents may stop in the bank during business hours and complete the required forms to apply for registration eligibility, necessary to vote in the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

There are four requirements for an individual to be eligible to register to vote in the State of Illinois. They are: U.S. Citizenship; 18 years of age by the next election date; residence in the voting precinct for 30 days prior to the date of the next election; provide two forms of identification, one with a current address. Example: Illinois Drivers License, Social Security Card, utility bill, library card, birth certificate, welfare I.D. card.

There is no charge for this service, as the Antioch Jaycees are a civic organization working to serve the Antioch community. Applicants will receive their Voter Identification Card from the county clerk's office in approximately two weeks. Registration will be available until Oct. 4.

Village deals with variances in sign and sidewalk laws

by GLORIA DAVIS

Library needs new logo developed

Anyone interested in participating in the Nippersink Dist. Library logo contest has until Aug. 27 to turn in an entry. The library is looking for a logo or symbol it can use on all library publicity, including the newsletter, posters and stationery.

The contest is being sponsored by the Friends of the Nippersink Library who will also judge the entries. Final decision will rest with the Nippersink Library Board of Trustees.

Prizes include brunch for two at Andre's Steak House, a gift certificate from Anderson's Candy Shop, two mini-passes to PM&L Theatre in Antioch, a book from the fast food chain, a discussion on the existing ordinance calling for 10-foot sidewalks in commercial areas led to the approval of a motion made by Trustee Don Amundsen to OK a five-foot sidewalk in the instance of Burger King (same as other sidewalks in area).

Friends of the Library, and a collector's book from Time Was Antiques. Contest rules can be picked up at Nippersink Library, Richmond.

The board also instructed Village Atty. Ken Clark to set the machinery going to change the subdivision ordinance to read that sidewalks in commercial areas must be 10 feet or conform with existing sidewalks in the area concerned.

Larry Fales, representing Remax Real Estate on Lake St., appeared before the board asking for a sign variance. He contended that he had appeared before the zoning board and received no recommendation on his request for a larger sign. He said that he was told to go to the village board for a decision.

Atty. Clark said that the zoning board had to make a recommendation and the village board could not act without it. He told Fales apologetically that he would have to go back in front of the zoning board.

Fales, upset because this could mean another month's delay, listed other businesses in the village located in areas with the same speed zone as Remax that had signs the same size or larger than he is requesting. The sign ordinance has speed limits governing the size of commercial signs.

In other business the board:

— authorized a payment of $125,903 to Indiana Const. for the sewer plant upgrade.

— accepted bids of $925 for the Ford Crown Victoria and $400 for the 1983 Dodge being sold by the village.

— OKed the retaking of bids for the truck barn, adding a bid for a new salt barn to the bid since the old salt barn has collapsed.

HISTORY

What did men and women do about corns, calluses and more serious foot problems before modern medicine? If you lived in ancient Egypt, you could seek a barber-surgeon whose foot treatments included surgical procedures.

Foot-care services at European spas in the 1600s were depicted in paintings by Rembrandt and others.

It was Nicholas LaForest who popularized professional foot care for the public in 1781. His practice in Paris flourished for several reasons. He had published a book on the specialty standard for practitioners of that time. And he held the title of foot surgeon to Louis XIV.

Today, podiatry can help you enjoy the benefits of foot health and comfort.

The country has changed, but it's still 'great' country

by VIRGINIA PARK

A half-century ago in Long Grove has been a patchwork of many, many things.

To begin with, it seemed we lived in Prairie View, as that was our first mailing address. The Prairie View Post Office covers all the territory from the Des Plaines River to Lake Zurich.

The nearest transportation where the train stations in Palatine, Barrington or even Highland Park.

We had a Libertyville telephone exchange when we finally got a phone, two years after the marriage in 1938. (In those days one had to ring up the operator by a handle on the side of the phone, and tell her the number you wanted—none of this push button stuff!)

All this was rather confusing to visitors trying to locate us. But the following incorporation of Long Grove in December, 1956, and the decision of Lake Zurich to have rural delivery routes, which allowed Long Grove a route and a substation, we came to feel a little more settled.

Entering into the life of the community also helped establish a firm foundation. We got to know many of the farmers and the people in several settlements in the area. We registered to vote in the one and only precinct in Vernon Twp. where Adlai Stevenson voted as a presidential candidate at the Town Hall in Half Day. This little building is just west of Washburn Church, which later was turned over to the congregation to use as a Sunday school.

Father William was elected to the Township Board as a Justice of the Peace under Sup. Lloyd Ritzenthaler, and he adjudicated many a neighborly dispute and even performed marriage ceremonies.

Grocery shopping—a ten mile trip either to Barrington, Libertyville, or Highland Park—was taken in stride as a part of the country living. Quite in contrast are the shopping areas today at nearly every crossroad which can furnish everything from fast foods to TV sets and video tapes.

What a treasure was John Hans' store in Long Grove where we found just the right hardware to argument what was needed for our house as it was erected.

When we raised our family, schools became an all absorbing interest in which we participated as members of the Gridley School Community Club and their square dance group. Father William became a member of that three-man School Board, then of Kildeer Countryside School's seven-man Board, and finally served as president of the Elia-Vernon High School Board. At the local level, he served on the first Plan Commission in Long Grove, and a member of the Vernon Area Planning Board.

My service as a judge of elections was in the new Precinct No.2 in the old Aptakisic School, then in the new Aptakisic School, then in the Half Day Fire Station, located in the new Vernon Town Hall in Prairie View, and finally in Vernon Township's Precinct No. 227 at Kildeer School. This has been most rewarding. So many people have widened my horizons and warmed my heart.

In thinking of changes in our lifetime, nothing could have changed more than the election process. From the paper ballots marked in squares by pen of the voter—the counting of which sometimes kept the judges there all night—to the voting machines enabling the counting of ballots by computer at the county courthouse in Waukegan, giant strides have been made.

Eventually Vernon Township got a library, and we became more and more "civilized" as many farms disappeared under the pressure of development, with the lessening of inflation and the lowering of the interest rates in the last few years. Clusters of houses with fancy landscaping have altered the feeling of field and hedgegrow.

I miss looking out my kitchen window and seeing Wallace and Katherine Ritzenthaler gather grain behind their team of white horses, but I am grateful that I can still see two deer, a fawn and his mother, in my orchard once in a while eating windfalls, or get a glimpse of three yearlings romping together in the north meadow.

We are thankful that we have known these things, and are still living in a rather secluded woodsy area, able to appreciate the meaning of "country."

It's been a great fifty years...

Quality day care

Editor:

I have read with interest your recent articles on day care in our community. Quality day care is a concern for so many families and it does seem to be in short supply. That is why I wanted to tell your readers that the Central Lake Family YMCA Y Tot Day Care program in Mundelein has openings for children ages two to five. In their new location at 706 E. Hawley St., Mundelein, they have been able to expand their program to include even more children. The teachers are wonderful, experienced and creative, and there has been very little staff turnover in the three years my family has been enrolled. The rates are among the lowest around.

The Y Tot fall open house is coming up on Saturday, Aug. 27. For more information, interested readers should contact the director, Erin Rokicki at (312)949-0060.

Change Tax Rules

Editor:

For two decades now, parents, taxpayers, teachers and school boards have lamented the fact that the state of Illinois does not provide enough money for education. So the local property taxpayers are forced to do it.

This reliance on the property tax for school funding pits the needs of children against those least able to pay; namely senior citizens and others on fixed incomes, the unemployed, small businesses struggling to survive and those whose wages have fallen from union scale to minimum wage. It's a "lose-lose" situation.

Yet over the past 20 years the percentage of school funding by the state government has fallen from about 47 percent to 38 percent and is expected to drop again this year.

Let's change this to a "win-win" situation by demanding that the governor and legislators pass a state constitutional amendment requiring that the state will provide 51 percent of educational funding. If you agree, cut this letter out of the paper, sign your name and address and send it to me at 3440-3rd St. "B", East Moline, Ill. 61244. I will take them en masse to the legislative leaders in Springfield.

Reject Con-Con '90

A campaign issue is shaping up for the November election that in many ways will have far greater influence on the daily lives of Illinois citizens than whether George Bush or Michael J. Dukakis will be the next President of the United States.

Illinois voters will be asked whether a Constitutional Convention should be convened in 1990 to make changes in the present Constitution that was rewritten at Con-Con 1970. The revised Constitution provides that every 20 years consideration should be given to making changes and the people are asked to decide.

Battle lines are forming on the question of Con-Con 1990 between Citizens and Constitutional Reform headed by Patrick Quinn, a Cook County politician who has been instrumental in bringing about sweeping governmental changes in the past, and the Committee to Preserve the Illinois Constitution, a statewide coalition of business and governmental leaders.

With Quinn involved, anything can happen. We think reopening the Constitution to possible amendment will be a mistake, especially if Quinn is permitted to exercise his personal brand of mischief. We emphatically urge voters to turn thumbs down on Con-Con 1990.

Quinn particularly is interested in providing for voter initiative like the California system where all sorts of whacky ideas are permitted to get on the ballot and the general body politic is subject to persecution by special interest groups. What Quinn is regarding as "defects" in the present Constitution in reality are safeguards against chaos.

If voters take time to study the pros and cons of a costly and unnecessary convention in 1990, we predict that they will vote no. We earnestly hope so.

County leaders see Sen. Quayle as 'good fit'

by BILL SCHROEDER

Report from New Orleans...

There are no complaints among Lake County delegates and other Illinois Republicans over Vice President George Bush's choice of U.S. Sen. Dan Quayle, a relative unknown, as a running mate.

"Surprise, yes, but after the initial impact all of us feel that he fits," reported Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman in an early morning phone call following a few hours sleep after a Mississippi riverboat outing with fellow county delegates and local GOP stalwarts.

What does Quayle bring to the ticket and what does his selection mean, this writer echoed in chorus with a startled nation?

Foreman recounted that Congressman Kemp was the popular choice for Veep, but he quickly enumerated the virtues of the 41-year-old Hoosier politician. "He has special appeal to women voters, younger people and farmers. We're seeing Quayle as an exciting young person on the new Republican team Bush is putting together to follow the Reagan years. In that way," the young state's attorney emphasized, "Quayle is kind of a 'throw-back' to the Kennedy persona."

Foreman relates to Quayle's generation, as he'll be celebrating his 40th birthday Monday, Aug. 22. Youth obviously is a key factor. The other key, according to Foreman, is Bush's determination to get all the "right" members on the Bush team, meaning covering ethnic and special interest considerations. Along this line, Foreman mentioned the new Hispanic member of the cabinet and the increasing role being played by Gen. Colin Powell in White House policy. Talk among delegates is that Powell, a highly regarded and respected black conservative, is headed for Sec. of Defense if Bush wins in November.

Official Republican delegates, along with Foreman, were State Sens. Adeline Geo-Karis and David Barkhausen and State Rep. William Peterson.

Politically speaking . . . . by JOSEPH SOULAK

Township supervisors have only two real functions. For openers, they are nothing more than social chairmen. Second, they seem to delight in fighting with the highway commissioners of their townships. That's the opinion of Lake Villa Twp. Highway Commissioner James Semmerling, who is known to have quite a few opinions.

"All you have to do is look at Dorothy Thompson in Lake Villa Twp. or Mike Graham in Libertyville Twp.," he said. He said the biggest budget in their offices is for handing out surplus cheese periodically to the needy and running a township picnic in the summer. "Other than that they glad-hand people, occasionally answer the phone and keep in contact with the public by doing a little P.R. What else is there for them to do?"

There is another similarity between the supervisors of the two townships. Both are fighting with their road commissioners. In Libertyville Graham won't let Highway Commissioner Elmer Henderson have the $703,000 budget he wants, but one for less than half that amount or $300,875. So they're fighting.

In Lake Villa Twp. Thompson had the locks to the township offices changed because someone was entering the building on weekends and forgetting to lock the door behind them. Whenever her and Semmerling speak they fight. Even Avon Twp. is tainted. Supervisor Norman Geary and Patrick Anderson haven't seen eye to eye since the road commissioner mentioned he would like to run for supervisor.

That's what it's like to be a township supervisor or highway commissioner. Anyone want the job?

Democratic candidates in the fall election will get a big boost when U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon (D-Illinois) shows up for the party's annual golf day and dinner. It will be Wednesday, Aug. 31, with golf at the Bonnie Brook Golf Course in Waukegan and dinner at the Green Bay Shipping Company in the Waukegan Ramada Inn.

This year's event is sure to be a winner with Dixon as the guest and popular county party Chairman Betty-Ann Moore as the gracious hostess. Tickets will go fast. They are $50 per person for the combination golf and dinner or $35 for for the chance to break bread with the senator. Those who want to do either may call Robert Furtkamp at (312) 872-8167.

available at the entrance. Already signed up to pitch horseshoes at political celebrities state Rep. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake), Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell and State's Atty. Fred Foreman.

Roland Burris Allan Dixon

BARBECUE—Outdoor reception Saturday, Aug. 20, from 2:30 to 5 p.m. for Democrat Grant B. Farrell, candidate for state representative in the 62nd Dist. of Antioch, Lake Villa, Newport, Benton, Zion and part of Avon townships. This delicious afternoon takes place at Farrell's home, 40357 N. Sunset Dr., Antioch. Among the visiting politicians will be Democratic state representatives Grace Mary Stern of the 58th Dist. and John Matijevich of the 61st Dist. The biggest guest of all, though, will be Roland Burris, the state's chief fiscal officer and National Democratic Party vice-chairman. He is a likely candidate for governor and has also been mentioned as a good choice for mayor of Chicago. Admission is by donation.

TALK—Congressman Phillip Crane, (R-Arlington Heights) will talk about the future in a 7:30 p.m. program Thursday, Aug. 25, in Conference Room C003 of the College of Lake County, Grayslake. It begins with a coffee social at 7 p.m. with an open forum for all questions the final hour before adjourning at 9:45 p.m. Crane free-wheeling talk will be about matters ranging from the job Congress is or is not doing to the role of the modern-day family, a pardon for Ollie North and possible changes in the postal service. This freebie could be interesting if Crane talks at those attending instead of down to them or gets off on one of his proverbial sidetracks.

At this week's Republican national convention Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) of the 10th Dist. had some mixed loyalties. For president he is on the George Bush bandwagon. "Bush is the kind of strong, experienced and effective president America must have in the years ahead," Porter said.

Porter might have been hoping another of his favorites made the ticket in the No. 2 spot—Kansas Sen. Robert Dole. Porter supported Dole for president in the March primary. When Bush won all of the marbles leading to the New Orleans convention, Porter joined the parade.

As for the man who did get that much talked-about job—Indiana Sen. Dan Quayle—Republicans are happy. Those from the Midwest got one of their own as did conservatives nationwide. Quayle is about as well known as Democratic veep candidate Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, who is 26 years his senior. The media will make certain these somewhat obscure personalities are put in the limelight. Quayle is young, rich, handsome and conservative, making him a pleasing recipe for the GOP.

Jim Edgar, the secretary of state, did a little politicking in New Orleans this week that didn't involve the president or his new running mate. He took 20 staff members to New Orleans as a reward for their past work. No tax money was spent, he said. Edgar is considering a 1990 bid for governor on the Republican ticket. Lt. Gov. George Ryan, who is also considering a gubernatorial bid of his own, took two staffers to New Orleans.

Guess what they are raising in Lindenhurst? Judging by those who know, its children. When the new medical complex that is part of the State Bank of Antioch opens it will have one, possibly two, pediatricians and an obstetrician.

Mayor Robert Ratch says "It must be the water."

area is suffering through a summer of record high ozone levels.

Senate Bill 1894, which would restrict air pollution as well as curb the production of acid rain, has been stalled in Congress by those who oppose the acid rain requirements. Now, new compromise legislation that more equitably spreads the cost of reducing acid rain has been proposed and the possibility of tighter pollution controls is in sight.

The League of Women Voters believes the Senate should act quickly to pass SB 1894, forceful yet balanced legislation that will clean up our nation's cities, cut pollution from automobiles and restrict toxic releases.

Chicago area residents need not suffer through another summer like this, nor should any citizens have to wait for clean, healthy air. The League urges all concerned citizens to write or call our senators, Alan Dixon and Paul Simon, and urge them to work for strong clean air legislation.

Happy on Mike's list

Editor:

As usual, Mike Graham has not gotten his facts correct, and as usual he is using scare tactics. As a member of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Acquisition Committee, he should know that the question of the annexation of Picket Fence Farm and of the other small property owners in the area is now in condemnation proceedings in court; and Grayslake is not a party to such proceedings—nor am I.

Trees have always been a concern in Grayslake, and efforts have always been made by the village to encourage the planting and preservation of trees. In fact, a rule which has been in effect in Grayslake during my 11 years as mayor is that no trees on public property in Grayslake will be cut down without my express permission.

Grayslake not only works to preserve trees, but we have our own reforestation project whereby each new development must have at least one tree planted in the parkway for each residential lot created. This might be something the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. might be interested in doing. Rather than buying cornfields, why doesn't it buy land that has trees and add reforestation to preserve this amenity? Our Center St. area, the business district of Grayslake, now has trees located there by village action and village contribution. As a matter of policy, we do not allow developers to destroy forests or wetlands.

Although Mr. Graham included me on his list of 10 for the wrong reasons, I still feel honored to be on the list in the company of those people who are quietly trying to do the best job they can without seeking publicity, and without making headline-seeking, outlandish statements which have no basis in fact.

It is rather arrogant of Mike to think he is the only one in Lake County concerned about the environment.

Edwin M. Schroeder
Mayor, Grayslake

How done is done?

Editor:

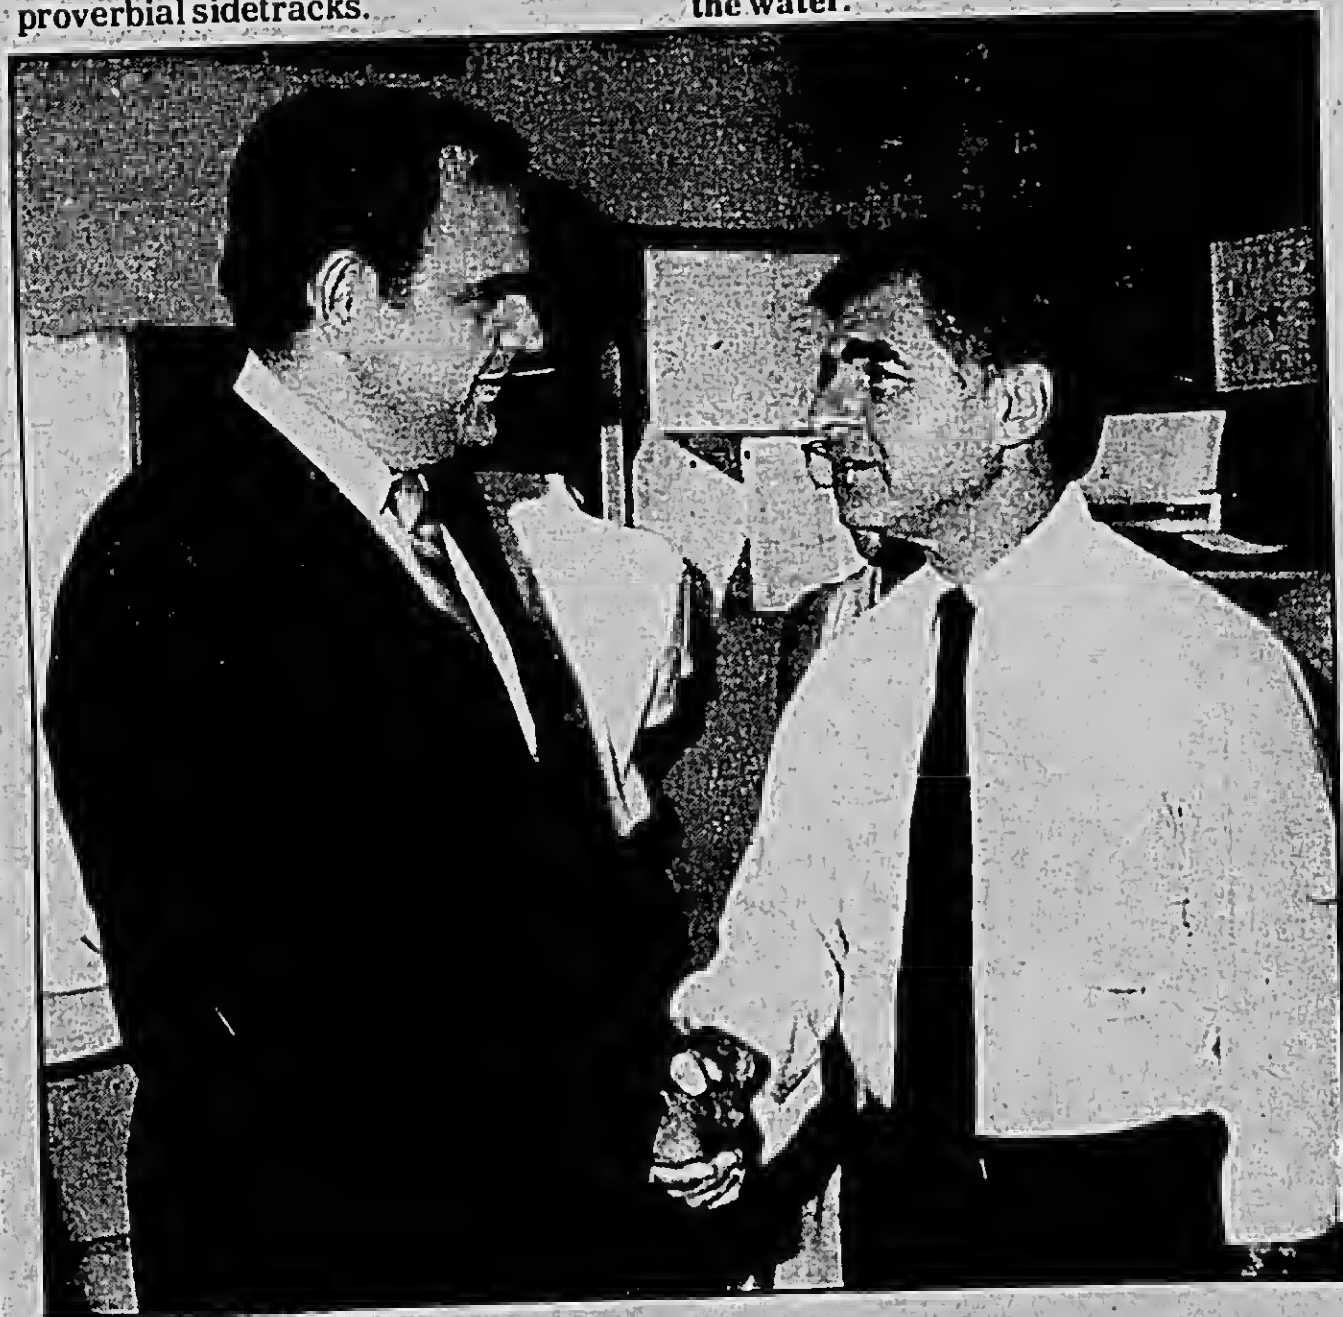

The recent flurry of newspaper articles and public relations releases regarding Gurnee Mills leads one to believe, by their tone, that this project is a done deal. Imagine the surprise of the public attending the Aug. 10 zoning meeting when it was determined that the Village of Gurnee has yet to annex the land owned by Western Development!

This meeting was the first opportunity for the public to view the proposal and was obviously a source of great confusion for the same as to exactly how far the process has gone and what remains to be done.

As this project represents the largest effort to date in Lake County and will certainly have far-reaching implications for the residents, businesses and future projects, the political organizations involved in the process and the newspapers owe the public more than they have been given up until now.

Admittedly, Gurnee Mills is probably a "done deal". It is up to an informed public as to how the deal is done.

John R. Nordin

Working toward same goal

When Democratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis, right, was in the area on a campaign swing he met with 10th Dist. congressional candidate Gene Friedman, left, of Winnetka. "Our primary goal in this area is to get you into the White House," Friedman told Dukakis. "I appreciate that," the presidential hopeful answered. "We're all in this together. I want you on the hill with us." Dukakis said he looks forward to returning to the district and working for Friedman, who is running against incumbent Republican John Porter.

Nielsen a 'hands-on' developer

by JOSEPH SOULAK

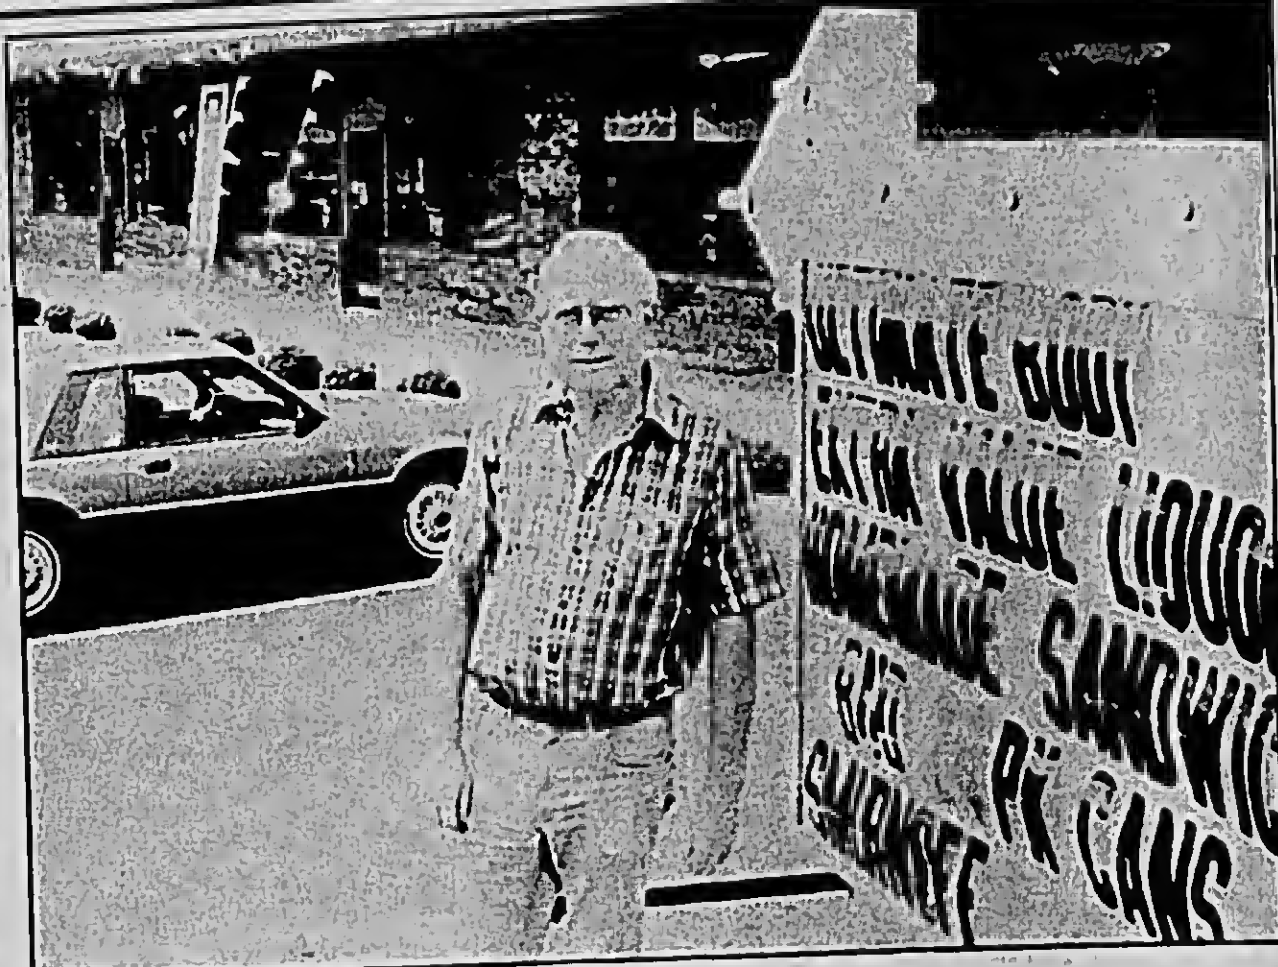

Some people are movers. Others are shakers. Fred Nielsen of Lake Villa is a builder, both figuratively and literally.

His imprint is on much of what's happening today in Lake Villa. A small town by comparison with 1,500-plus residents, the home-grown Nielsen has never outgrown it.

Look around today and it is difficult not to see the Nielsen name or an enterprise with which the family is not identified. Entering the village from the north on Rte. 83 is Nielsen Enterprises and Nielsen Distributing International Inc., both involved in snowmobiles and recreational vehicles. The two are operated by a brother, Ted Nielsen. Fred Nielsen was formerly part of the business until 10 years ago.

In the building business since age 19, one of his first projects was an apartment building in downtown Lake Villa at 30 Cedar Ave. The two brothers then opened a snowmobile store and service center at Grand and Cedar Aves. in downtown Lake Villa. But Fred still kept building. When things got too big and busy at that location the business moved to Rte. 83 seven years ago. Nielsen remodeled the former store into the popular Prime Time Saloon and Eatery.

This was followed in recent years by Ishnala Estates on the east shore of Deep Lake. More than three-quarters of the 58 lots have homes ranging from $250,000 to $500,000. More recently he opened the Ishnala Country Estates on Fairfield Rd at the north edge of Lake Villa. The 60-lot project of $200,000 to

'Nielsenville?'

Lake Villa's Fred Nielsen stands outside Nielsen Plaza, one of the builder-entrepreneur's latest developments. The admitted workaholic says he works and plays hard, and lives life "to the fullest because I enjoy it that much." He has had a hand in much of Lake Villa's development.

$400,000 homes is just filling. Ishnala is an Indian name meaning only one of its kind. Both are undertakings of Fred Nielsen Development with his brother, Ted, and Atty. Jack Schultz as partners.

Whether it is pouring a basement or finishing off a staircase leading to an expansive view of the lake below or countryside in the distance, Nielsen is there to make certain it is done right. He's a hands-on entrepreneur.

When sewer service becomes available in Lake Villa he plans still another project. It is Pineview Estates, a 50-lot development at the end of McKinley Ave. in Lake Villa of homes priced from $150,000 to $200,000.

Just finished is Nielsen Plaza, a 10-store shopping complex on Rte. 83, the village's first. It is anchored by Nielsen's own liquor store, the Ultimate Body slenderizing salon owned by his daughter, Nikki, 19, who also buys and sells lots with her father. The plaza will be filled this fall by a chiropractor, photographer, wall covering store, paint store and Nielsen's own yogurt store.

And Nielsen is still not finished building. He has plans for another plaza, possibly in Antioch, and one in Sarasota, Fla., where the family has a condominium.

For relaxation Nielsen heads to the auto racing circuit where the name is as prominent as it is in building. From his Lake Villa shop roll four cars—Camaros and Grand Prix with (Continued on page 18)

Basics offered in secretarial training class

by RANDI OSTRO

A federally subsidized retraining program for secretarial positions has gone back to the basics.

The 14-week program, offered by the Lake County Urban League, provides students with basic typing, filing, and word-processing skills.

"If we give them the basic skills, the company can give them the frills," said Lettie Tubbs, new program director. The curriculum in the past incorporated more in-depth skills.

The course is offered free to those who meet certain requirements.

The course attracts men and women of various race and age. "I think it depends on the season," Tubbs said of the mix. What class participants share is the desire to obtain functional skills.

Not all students need the full 14 weeks to complete the course. "It depends on what each student puts into it," Tubbs said.

Each student must type 35 wpm on a typewriter before advancing to a computer. Once speed is increased to 45 wpm, students are introduced to word processing.

Timer cuts cooling costs

With the current hot summer months and increased electricity costs, many home energy experts suggest alternative methods to cooling your house during the "dog days of summer".

Perhaps the most logical substitute to installing an expensive central air conditioning unit would be to cool just the rooms you live in with a window air conditioner and a timer such as the new Intermatic Time all use timer that would help them to appreciably cut their home energy costs," says Barbara Ceurvorst, Intermatic consumer products marketing manager.

heavy-duty, seven-day programmable timer.

"We wanted to offer homeowners an easy to "While the HB171C is available for many other home uses, the seven-day programmable feature makes it especially practical during the summer. By setting the device to turn the air conditioning unit on just a few moments before returning home, the resident comes home to a "cool" room at a more reasonable cost."

Designed to control air conditioners, personal computers, appliances and lamps, the timer provides up to 14 settings (seven "on" and seven "off") per week. The timer is simple to program, with separate controls for each day of the week.

When the timer is activated, it will operate for a minimum "on" time of three hours and a maximum "on" time of six days, 21 hours. The timer also has a manual override on/off switch for operating the appliance during non-scheduled hours.

Intermatic's HB171C heavy-duty, grounded plug-in appliance timer can control a variety of loads up to 15 amps resistive, 1,250 watts tungsten and eight amps inductive.

Mundelein firm unveils 'good citizen' program

International Minerals & Chemical Corp. (IMC) with offices in Mundelein and Northbrook, has unveiled a new social responsibility plan called the "Community Partnership Program." It is composed of four segments: charitable contributions, employee volunteerism, in-kind resource donations and professional memberships in civic organizations.

Through each component, IMC will attempt to help address urgent public needs, improve the quality of life in its communities, and enhance the long-term strategic interest of the corporation.

"For more than 40 years, IMC has carried out a tradition of social responsibility by donating millions of dollars and services to community not-for-profit organizations," said George D. Kennedy, IMC chairman and chief executive officer.

"IMC employees have raised important dollars from walkathons, telethons, and raffles," he said. "Clothing, food and toys have been collected and distributed. And much, much more. Employee involvement is the basis for our Community Partnership Program, and IMC honors that commitment with generous financial resources."

The Program's charitable contributions and employee volunteer efforts have been divided into categories emphasizing the concerns and interests of IMC: youth and family, arts and crafts, education and the United Way.

Not-for-profit organizations in the Chicago area interested in Community Partnership Program guidelines may write to IMC, c/o Manager, Public Affairs, 2315 Sanders Rd., Northbrook, Ill. 60062.

IMC has two major businesses. Mallinckrodt is a major supplier of a broad line of medical products, specialty chemicals, and flavors and fragrances. Pitman-Moore is one of the leading animal health and nutrition businesses in the world and the nation's largest supplier of feed-grade phosphates and potassium products. In addition, IMC holds 38 percent of the common stock of IMC Fertilizer Group, Inc., one of the world's largest producers of phosphate and potash crop nutrients.

"First Impressions"

Pheasant Run Dinner Theatre of St. Charles opened its new cabaret-style show "First Impressions." The production stars impressionists Louise Du Art Center and Ron Hawking and will feature Pheasant Run's 3-D Players, an ensemble of 18 singers/dancers.

Lincolnshire Theatre offers Bernstein's 'West Side Story'

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents "West Side Story," the dynamic Arthur Laurents, Leonard Bernstein and Stephen Sondheim musical of teenage love and violence in the mean streets of Manhattan's upper west side. The production previews Aug. 31, opens Sept. 7 and plays through Nov. 6.

This electrifying story of young love emerges against a backdrop of hostility and bitter tension between warring street gangs. Riff (Paul Dobie), the leader of the Jets, a self-styled "American" gang, swears to drive the Puerto Rican Sharks, led by Bernardo (Rob Rahn), from the streets. Riff prevails upon his friend and co-founder of the Jets, Tony (Marcus Lovett) to help him.

Bernardo's sister, Maria (Susan Moniz), newly arrived from Puerto Rico, attends a dance with her new friend Anita (Shannon Cochran). It is here that Maria meets rival gang member Tony; and despite mutual hostilities, they fall in love. And so begins the much lauded modern-day version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

Others in the cast include Darwin R. Apel as Doc; Richard Brunner as Officer Krupke; Ray Frewen as Shrank; with William Akey, Michael Bartseh, Lisa Comeaux, Tina DeLeone, Susan Deming, Deidre Dolan, Beeky Downing, Jennifer Fishman, Seth Hoff, Andy Lupp, Michael McCauley, Robyn Peterman, Kelly Prybyl, Walter Tabayoyong and Rhae Ann Theriault.

The atmosphere of the production is stark and dramatic, but the book by Laurents adds humor and pathos to this captivating romance. The powerful musical score, written by Bernstein and lyrics by Sondheim, features the rhapsodic "Maria," the haunting melody "Somewhere" and the soaring urgency of "Tonight."

Produced for Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre by Kary M. Walker, "West Side Story" is directed by Dominic Missimi and choreographed by Mark Hoebe. The set, designed to resemble a west side Manhattan slum, was created by John H. Doepp and costume design is under the direction of Nancy Missimi.

Marriott's production of "West Side Story" also features lighting design by Diane Ferry Williams; property design by Kathy Klaisner; sound design by Randy Allen Johns; and musical supervision and direction by Kevin Stites.

Bridges, plot power blend in 'Tucker'

YES

by GLORIA DAVIS

The biggest film opening of the week without a doubt was "Tucker: A Man and His Dream," biding to be one of the most important pics of the year with names like Francis Ford Coppola, George Lucas and often Academy Award nominee Jeff Bridges on its credits roster.

THE STORYLINE IS A GIMMEE, — a case of a true story having a plot better than most film writers could conjure — the real life story of how the big three auto manufacturers and politicians ruined the dreams and the business and probably eventually the life of Preston Tucker because the automobile he thought up in the late 1940's was better than anything they had come up with.

KUDOS TO BRIDGES who plays the self-confident dreamer with aplomb, ably assisted by a great supporting cast led by Martin Landau, Joan Allen and papa Lloyd Bridges.

Coppola, who loves dark scenes, utilizes them here, a technique I might question in many of the scenes like the ones at the Tucker homestead and in the factory.

THE PLOT DEALT primarily with "David's fight against Goliath," in this case, Goliath's winning, despite emerging battle-scarred from his court defeat.

Good as this story menu is, it left this reviewer only partially satiated, because the only glimpse we may have gotten of the man, named Tucker, was during his court summation.

I FOUND THE TALE of this outstanding individual so interesting, I found myself wishing they would follow a movie with a predecessor. What made Preston Tucker the man that he was?

I would like to know more about the man and his family, 30 years before the Tucker automobile came into being.

'Tucker,' a good buy

by IRIS MAYFIELD

"Tucker, The Man and His Dream" shows part of the man and all of one dream come true, so true as to rankle Detroit to muster a phoney swindle charge against the man and his car of tomorrow.

THE UP-SCALE MOVIE, directed by Francis Ford Coppola, swings around a larger-than-life Tucker played by Jeff Bridges, and is set in cocksure, post-World-War-II, when all of America is riding the crest of its greatest victory.

Backed by the "swing" music of the 40s composed and arranged by Joe Jackson, the Arnold Schulman and David Seidler script never once lapses into melancholy or a feeling of defeat.

Tucker is always on top, maintaining a stature only true of story-book heroes. Yet, this exaggerated hero is magnificent and inspiring to watch, particularly if one happens to be a Jeff Bridges fan, such as this reviewer. By watching Bridge's face, you can see Tucker think through his problems with a quick-attack mastery most people only hope to emulate.

HE WAS A HEROIC MAN, with a heroic wife, and heroic kids, in that the kids never got in the way, and his wife stood in his stead and handled problems when he wasn't there. Unreal? Yes. But, hyperbole helped make a beautiful picture about a beautiful dream of a man of character.

How many take a dream and run with it? How many dream runners succeed? What is their measure of success? To Howard Hughes, played by Dean Stockwell, with Hughes talking about his Spruce Goose, Hughes says, "People don't understand. It doesn't matter it never flew. It's the dream that counts." Preston Tucker, after his trial said, "It's the idea, the dream that counts."

WHAT TECHNICALLY COUNTS is this movie's excellent script, Coppola's directing, Bridge's fine performance, and Vittorio Storaro's cinematography.

'Feathertop' starts season

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre for Young Audiences will present "Feathertop-The Scarecrow That Came To Life," a musical for children by Ed Flesch and John Reeger (Chicago area actor/playwright).

This is the first of three productions for young audiences being offered by Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre during the 1988-89 school year. "Feathertop-The Scarecrow That Came To Life" will open Sept. 28 and play through Nov. 2.

Based on a short story by Nathaniel Hawthorne, "Feathertop" tells the tale of a good witch, Mother Rigby, who magically brings her scarecrow to life in order to free young Polly Goodkin from the domination of her uncle, the evil Judge Goodkin. Magic tricks, music, audience participation all combine to make "Feathertop" a thoroughly enjoyable experience for the entire family.

Performances are on the main stage of Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre located in the Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort complex on Rte. 21, just south of Rte. 22 in Lincolnshire.

Performances are most weekdays at 10 a.m.; Saturdays at 11 a.m. and two shows 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 10 and a special Halloween Night performance at 7 p.m. on Oct. 31. Each show is approximately one hour in length with a brief question and answer period with the actors and production staff immediately following.

Fox Lake swim race for national championship

Forget Seoul, South Korea. Fox Lake will host national skill-level competition of its own this week at the Fox Lake Challenge 4-mile Swim.

The event started by Linda and Dave Usrey as a means of promoting the area's aquatic resources has done just that.

Swimmers from Texas, California and other reaches of the United States will be among the 150 expected to compete in the race designated by the Master Swimmers organization at its mid- to long-distance national championship.

Linda Usrey, event organizer, says the local race was nominated as a host for the national championship by several of last year's competitors.

The national championship is a one-shot, winner-take-all deal.

The Master Swimmers organization sponsors swimming events and races for people older than 24, Usrey said, and crowns champions in age divisions that go higher than 90.

No one that old had yet registered for the local event, but a 74-year-old, Reno, Nev. woman is entered.

Swimmers may register up to race day, Usrey said. The fee is $15 or $20 — the former if the racer provides a boat with a crew to keep watch, the latter if she or he does not.

There will be boaters out to watch the racers for safety's sake, Usrey said, but "the more people we have out there and watching over things, the better."

In addition, every swimmer must be registered as a Master Swimmer, an $8 surcharge for those not yet members.

Trophies will be awarded to the top 15 percent of finishers in each class. Each participant will be given a t-shirt.

There will be a pre-race meeting at 6 p.m. Friday at Carmen's Veranda at Pier Place. Information on the course will be dispensed and a videotape of last year's race will be screened.

Members of the Grand Pier Yacht Club will take interested participants on a tour of the course.

Participants must arrive at Korpan's Landing before 7:30 a.m. Saturday, when final instructions will be given.

Mayor William Dam will start the race at 8 a.m.

Usrey isn't concerned about the race-horse style start. "The horses will position themselves" for a fast start and others will allow them the space, Usrey said.

Not a particularly fast swimmer herself, Usrey will follow her own instinct on how to start. "I don't want to get kicked in the head by one of the horses," she said.

The award ceremony is scheduled for 1 p.m. at Carmen's. The Grand Pier Yacht Club will sponsor a street dance Saturday evening.

Stage 2 sets one-act festival Aug. 26-28

Stage Two, a professional theater company housed at the College of Lake County, will close its 1988 season with three world premiere one-acts.

Stage Two, which has brought many area and midwest premieres to Lake County, will now increase its world premiere total to four.

"Stage Two believes that one of the actor's greatest challenges is to develop new works, and Lake County audiences have been very receptive to our new and different plays," stated Bryan Simon, executive director for the company.

A rare opportunity will be presented to Lake County audiences to see most of Stage Two's ensemble at the one-act festival, either as actors or directors.

Ensemble member Rita Hollingsworth will be directing two new one-acts by director/actor John S. Reinhardt, entitled "Problems of a Parting" and "Just a Matter of Options".

"Problems of a Parting" involves a yuppie couple as they work out the division of property just two weeks prior to their divorce. During lunch, they divy up the furniture, the houses, the art work, and even the children.

In "Just a Matter of Options" actor Hank Scott, played by ensemble member Bryan Simon, is on a flight to Chicago for a presentation when he is accosted by a drunken fan and then dumped by his agent Vera, ensemble member Constance Spenko. Hank is forced to look at his "options"; so fasten your seat belts, it's going to be a bumpy ride.

"The Sisters of Southgate Shelter" will also be featured at the one-act festival. This short play by Denice Ryan Martin and directed by ensemble member Richard French is the story of four women—played by Mary May Johnson, Virginia Jones and ensemble members Norma Cribb and Laura Schaps—who are temporarily living in a home for battered wives. As the play unfolds, each woman deals with her terror, revenge, and her search for self-respect.

The one-act festival will be presented at the College of Lake County, 19361 W. Washington St., Grayslake, on Aug. 26 and 27 at 8 p.m. and on Aug. 28 at 3 p.m. All performances will be held in the theater located in Bldg. 5. Reservations are recommended. Call the box office at (312) 662-4071.

'Magic Lamp' cast

As part of children's theater, at Little Fart Lamplighter, 'The Magic Lamp' will be on stage at Genesee Theatre, Waukegan, at 7:30 p.m., on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 19-20. In cast are, clockwise, Adrian Abbott, Ann Bretzlau, Micah Martin, Christine Hmnes, Tiffany Taylor and Nicole Halmes. There will be no matinees because of hot weather. Tickets are available at theater door.

Refreshments will be available throughout the day and the winning teams will receive trophies.

Fall sign-up

There are certain signs that summer is changing to fall. One is the start of football practice. And another is in Trevor, Wis. when Furlan's Dug Out Park accepts fall registration.

Openings exist for men's 12 inch softball teams for Tuesday through Friday nights. Also, openings are available for women's and men's volleyball teams which will also be held Tuesday through Friday. Fall leagues will begin approximately the end of August.

For more information, call Tom Furlan at (414) 862-9936 or (312) 395-5788. There are limited openings. Dug Out Park is located on Rte. 83 two miles north of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line.

Rudolph: sportsman for all seasons

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It was a Tuesday and like all Tuesdays, Monty Rudolph did something he always does.

He rode to Shiloh Golf Course and played golf for nine holes. "I was kind of disappointed. I only shot a 51," Rudolph said.

That may not seem like much, but considering the fact that Rudolph is 85-years-old and one can begin to scratch the surface of this remarkable man's accomplishments.

Monty and his brother, Ed, took some time to rest under the shade of a tree outside of Monty's Gurnee home and discuss their better than 60 years of competitive sports. Well-known in Gurnee, Warren Twp. and at Woodland Dist. 50, Monty has lived in the same Gurnee home for more than 40 years. It is hard by the Warren High football field, providing Rudolph a birds-eye view of Blue Devil games.

Name a sport and Monty has played it. Archery, baseball, football, basketball, soccer, speed skating. He studied coaching at Northwestern Coaches School in the 1920s and later at Michigan State University.

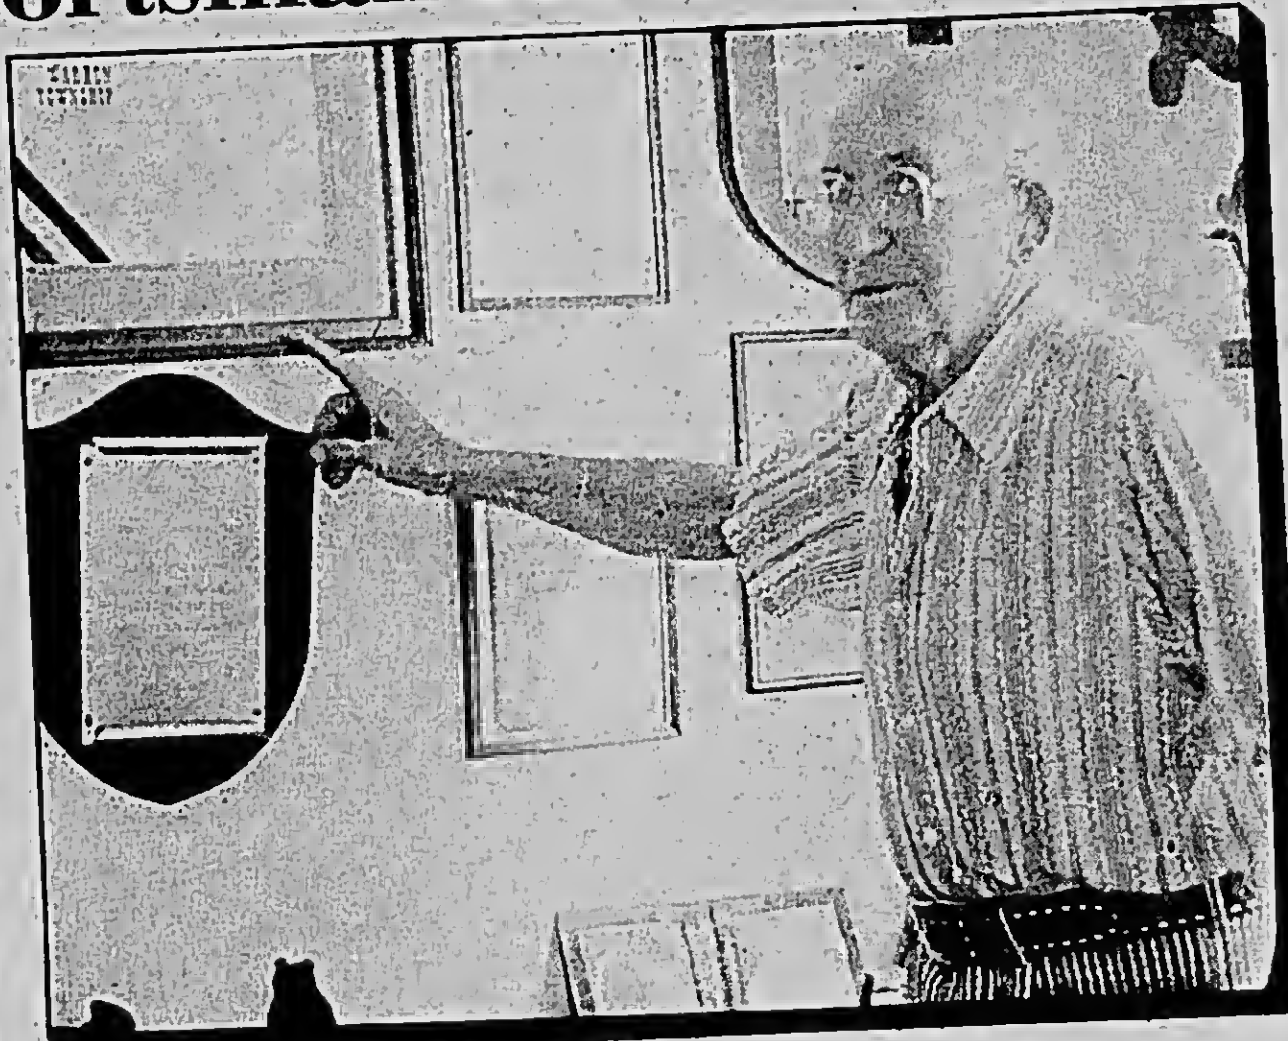

"I just went into everything," Monty recalls.

"Monty has done a lot for the community," his brother Ed proudly points out.

He played three different football positions in college while attending American College which is now DePaul University. In the 1920s, he was named the top guard while playing in the same college era as the likes of Bronco Nagurski.

Placed carefully in Monty's West Ave. home are the scrapbooks, plaques and pictures which tell the story. There is the "silver skates" award he won in 1927; there is a huge baseball trophy; there is the Gurnee Exchange Club Book of Golden Deeds award presented to Monty and his wife, Bess Rudolph; on the refrigerator door is a picture of President and Nancy Reagan.

Rudolph played in semi-pro

baseball leagues when players were paid according to their position on the field. Pitchers may receive more than rightfielder. Playing for teams such as the Skokie Indians, Evanston News-Index team, and teams from Glencoe, Rudolph's statistics show his hitting prowess. In 10 years, his batting average was at or near the .400 mark most of the time. He remembers the one year when he hit "only" .298.

"I had a broken toe that year," Monty said.

Shooting was important to Ed and Monty in early years. Together they combined for 100 points in a meet in Fox Lake in 1927.

For Rudolph, both coaching at MSU and at Woodland meant discipline. Those tactics today, may bring a lawsuit if used today.

"Discipline was a main thing with Monty," Ed said.

And that discipline carried outside the classroom as well. When pony rides were offered and a youngster did not say "thank you", he went to the end of the line.

At Woodland, Monty instituted an intramural program as well as being responsible for the physical education program for 600 youngsters.

Hundreds of athletes have called Monty to thank him for that discipline.

In 1983, the athlete who won eight letters in college was recognized by his peers in education. The Illinois State Board of Education honored Rudolph and his wife Bess at a Chicago convention as an award winner in the excellent educator series.

The Rudolphs were close friends with the late Congressman Bob McClory.

Through all the changes, all the teams, all the letters and awards, one aspect remains constant.

"Monty loves Gurnee. I don't think we can get him to leave," Ed said.

Weather doesn't stop golf marathon

When golf practice began at Grayslake Community High School this week, Cherie Paddock probably reminded the Rams about her team's successes over the years: five straight Northwest Suburban Conference golf titles.

And she probably discussed the importance of dedication, improvement, and the usual motivation speech all coaches give. But this year, Paddock had a unique story to tell.

Paddock and State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-lake Villa) spent Friday in a golf-a-thon at Renwood Country Club in Round Lake Beach. No, not just 18 holes, 36 holes or 72 but 101 holes in 11 hours.

"It was really pretty bad. We were sweating and it was so humid," Paddock said.

Paddock has been playing Renwood since age seven, but not very often did she start her day at 5:30 a.m.

"It was so dark you could not see the ball on the tee. We had problems finding the golf balls on the fairways. By the fourth hole, though, it was completely light," Paddock said.

Churchill, who had a score of 500 for the day, used an orange ball to try and help in the early-morning darkness. Paddock stuck to the traditional white golf ball.

For the record, the duo completed 11 nine hole rounds, alternating between the courses north and south sides. Churchill's scorecard read: 45-44-47-45-45-42-47-49-53-44-44. Paddock had two rounds under 40 in the 11 rounds and her scorecard read: 41-40-39-39-42-39-40-41-42-44-40.

Fridays are usually a busy day at Renwood, but the crowds did not pose too many problems. Signs were posted in the clubhouse asking players to allow Paddock and Churchill to play through. "Most people were really good. We saw two different groups twice," Paddock said.

Twins set playoff slate

The Kenosha Twins, first half northern division champions in the Midwest League, will be competing in the Midwest League playoffs on Aug. 31.

As winners of the first half, the Twins had the choice of hosting game one of the divisional series or games two and three (if necessary) of the best-of-three series. The Twins have elected to take the home field advantage and will host Midwest League playoff baseball for the third time in four years at 7:05 p.m. on Sept. 1. The opponent will be the

"It was a day a lot like Friday. It had started to rain and at 8 p.m. we had played 100 holes. Then we said in 20 years, let's play 101. I happened to remember this was the 20th year and called Bob and he said he vaguely remembered it," Paddock said.

So off to Renwood the duo went, but it was not without cause.

The seeds of the golf marathon were first planted in the 1960s when Churchill and Paddock played 100 holes in 1968.

Through pledges, the Grayslake High sports program could receive some $1,000 additional revenues from the outing.

Should the Twins win the northern division playoff, they would host the first two games of the championship series.

The Midwest League best-of-five championship series will begin immediately following completion of the northern and southern divisional series. The championship series will begin Sept. 2 if both divisional series go only two games or Sept. 3 if either series goes three games.

Should the Twins win the northern division playoff, they would host the first two games of the championship series.

Broncos win first 3, capture 3rd at regional tourney

The destiny was in the hands of the Gurnee Bronco baseball team.

The Broncos had won three straight games but lost to Topeka, Kan. and a Kansas City team and settled for third place. Mgr. Ray Salata was more than pleased with his team's showing against some of the top teams in the area at the West Central Regional Bronco tournament.

"I'm really happy with the fact that we could not only go out there and be competitive, but beat the best teams in the mid-west. It is something I will remember for a long time," Salata said.

For the record, the Broncos finished 3-2 for the regional tournament but their season is not over yet. Gurnee, 40-6 overall, is defending champion in a Pony league tournament in Palatine Aug. 13-20.

Gurnee started the Rockford tournament off on a bright note with an 8-5 win over Topeka, the Kansas state champion.

Gurnee led 2-0 and 3-0 in the early going. Doubles by Bob Olson and Derek Ramsden increased the margin to 5-1.

Gurnee then used the big inning to its advantage in a 14-6 win over Independence, Mo. Things looked bleak for Gurnee as the Broncos trailed 6-5 in the sixth inning. But then the team exploded for nine runs.

The inning featured eight of Gurnee's 15 hits for the game.

Curt Salata provided the game-winning hit, a three-run double in the sixth.

Gurnee pitchers Curt Salata and winner Kip Provines struck out five opponents.

Ramsden was three-for-four with a single, double and triple.

After a bye in the next round, Gurnee faced Wichita, Kans. in a battle of unbeaten teams. Gurnee once again used the big inning to pace itself to victory, scoring four times in the fourth in the 7-3 win.

A little low

Vernon Legion catcher D.J. McCullough fields low pitch in divisional playoff game against Freeport at Barrington High School. Vernon, thanks to eight-run inning, defeated Freeport in tournament opener. Vernon Coach Steve Breen said the season was successful after team reached divisional tournament after qualifying from Dist. 10 tourney. Vernon, after winning opener, lost to Ottawa and Lombard.

The world's largest shopping mall

JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I usually avoid tossing out statistics, but when your talking about the "world's largest" anything, there is no way to escape some such references.

It covers an area equal to 108 football fields. It has 12 restaurants, 11 department stores and 817 other shops. In the mood for a movie? You've got your choice of 34 theaters. I thought Crystal Lake was something when they went to eight! And that's only part of this shopper's paradise.

Feel like taking a swim after a long day of shopping? There's a water park that features not only giant water slides, but a sand beach complete with waves for body surfing. In the mood for a little excitement? Try the 12-story roller coaster in the indoor amusement park. Still too mundane for your tastes? Then how about a submarine ride through a shark-infested indoor lake. (In fact, this mall has almost as many submarines as the Canadian Navy.) Then we can watch a Siberian tiger or dolphin show.

The place is the West Edmonton Mall in Edmonton, the capital of the province of Alberta, Canada. It is by far the largest shopping mall in the world. In fact, it's twice as large as the second largest. (That's in Torrance, Calif.) It is well worth the trip, even if it is your only reason for going to Edmonton—though, this city and the surrounding area does have much more to offer.

For those whose geographic knowledge of Canada may be a little rusty, Edmonton is about in the center of the province of Alberta. Alberta is north of the western part of Montana. This means it's a long drive. About 1,500 miles, in fact. That gives us two alternatives.

The first was mentioned in my column last week, and that is a rail trip. Amtrak connects with Canada's rail system (called "Via") with trains into Edmonton. In fact, they have an escorted tour featuring a couple of days at a hotel adjacent to the mall.

If you don't have the time for a rail tour, you can fly into Edmonton. Several tour operators are packaging vacations with a stay at the Fantasyland Hotel connected to the mall.

So the next time the kids want to go to Great America, Mom wants to go shopping, and Dad would rather go fishing in Canada, we may have the answer!

We have three August birthdays—Margaret Kleeman, the 20th; Helen Madole, the 17th; and Alice Wang, the 14. The next meeting of the Daisy Circle will be Sept. 12 (the second Monday) because of the Labor Day holiday. The hostesses will be Margaret Kleeman and Mary Schwamlein.

The L.O.O.M. of the Fox Lake Moose will have another breakfast on Sunday, Aug. 21, at the Moose Hall at 76 E. Grand Ave. Ham, eggs, toast, juice and coffee will be served from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. The donation will be $3 per person.

I was at the breakfast they had last Sunday, and while my girlfriend and I were there they had a very good turnout. We got there around 9 a.m. that morning. In talking with a few people, I understand they have a nice turnout. So do not forget this breakfast coming up, as the money they make goes for a good cause.

The Fox Lake Community Center will sponsor a card party and luncheon on Friday, Aug. 26, at noon. We will start serving lunch at that time. The donation is $5 per person. After the luncheon, we will be playing cards and other games.

I would like to take the time to thank the Fox Lake Lion's Club for sponsoring everyone's favorite game on Tuesday, Aug. 9, at Maravella's for the benefit of the Fox Lake Community Center maintenance fund. The people attending were great, and everyone had a good time. The turnout made a big profit for the Lion's Club, and was all turned over to the Fox Lake Community Center that evening.

The lunch program planned for the Fox Lake Community Center for Tuesday, Aug. 23, is veal parmesan with spaghetti, salad, corn and sherbert. The lunch program for Aug. 25 will be creamed soup, baked ham, potato salad, green beans Almondine and chocolate pudding. Pres. Anne Vokac presided over the usual business in this, the final meeting of her two years in office. Vokac has done a wonderful job. She said the time went by so fast, and that she really enjoyed herself. She thanked everyone for the help they have given her.

Vokac then called on our president-elect, Dolly Medine, to step to the rostrum and turned the balance of the meeting over to her. Medine had Bacula, Karol Egelston and Jeanette Tullemello. First Vice Pres. Esther Schuerr helped. The membership drawing was held and the meeting closed in the usual order. We enjoyed the refreshments that were served and went home earlier than usual because of the bad weather.

Two Stanton Point Road men were injured Tuesday evening when an attempt to stop a family dispute turned into a brawl.

One man was charged and in custody Tuesday afternoon, and charges were expected against several more individuals.

Becker Williams Jr., no age available, 37237 N. Stanton Point Rd., sustained a broken nose and jaw in the altercation, while his father, Becker Williams Sr., no age available, same address, sustained broken ribs. Both men also suffered multiple scratches and bruises.

Joseph Komes, Crystal Lake, is being held on charges of obstructing a police officer.

According to Lake County Chief Deputy Willie Smith, the incident started at about 7 p.m. when Komes and his wife, Laura, stopped their vehicle near the Williams' home to continue an argument.

Williams Jr. noticed the pair, and went to stop the argument equipped with a shotgun. Joseph Komes exited his vehicle and a struggle ensued, Smith said, during which time the shotgun discharged without injuring anyone.

Komes' friends, who had been at a local drinking establishment, saw the struggle and decided to get involved.

When that happened, Williams Sr. entered the fracas and was injured as well.

About 12 people, including spectators, were involved, Smith said.

Theft, major crime in county, tied to drug use

Lake County State's Atty. Fred L. Foreman is confident the Lake County crime rate has stabilized. "As the chief law enforcement officer in Lake County, I am pleased the crime rate seems to be static over the past four years. In fact, I am very pleased that violent crime has continued on a downward trend," Foreman said.

"Normally in a growth area like Lake County situated between Chicago and Milwaukee with a huge influx of tourists one would expect a larger crime rate," Foreman said. "In fact, I am very pleased with the response from area law enforcement, which is obviously responsible for making Lake County a safer place to live. I welcome the addition of our new Lake County Jail, which will house several of the career offenders oftentimes released on bond because of jail overcrowding."

In Lake County in 1987, 4,498 crimes were committed for every 100,000 people. This was a .6 percent increase from 1986, when 4,470 crimes were committed per 100,000 people. This is a dramatic decrease from the 5,600 crimes committed per 100,000 people in 1980 when Foreman first took office as state's attorney. In fact, in 1987 the only increase in the eight categories of crime reporting was in sexual assaults and thefts. All other categories showed a decrease. "I am inclined to believe the increase in reporting of criminal sexual assault is a direct result of better victim's programs, as well as our Children's Advocacy Center supervised by the Lake County state's attorney's office. Sexual assault in the past has always been 'the quiet crime' because many people did not report this crime. I believe that greater efforts to prosecute offenders and more convictions have encouraged people to come forward and report these crimes."

The most significant crimes committed in Lake County are thefts. In 1986, there were 13,125 thefts reported. In 1987, there were 14,014 thefts reported.

The majority of reported thefts are petty thefts written up on local ordinances. Many of the thefts committed are related to the drug problem, where people must steal in order to support their habits, Foreman said. The majority of thefts in Lake County are for shoplifting and from construction sites throughout the county. That is why the Village of Gurnee has such a disproportionate crime rate, because of the number of petty thefts at the Six Flags Amusement Park, the state's attorney pointed out.

For the second year in a row, homicides were down in Lake County. There were 10 homicides in 1986 and 10 homicides in 1987. Aggravated batteries, assault and robberies are all decreased. "It is very encouraging that violent crimes are down," Foreman said. "I believe a message is being sent to the violent offenders that if they commit a crime, they go to jail and prison. Furthermore, the tremendous publicity afforded to major cases, such as the prosecution of serial killer Alton Coleman, sends a message back to the community that all serious crimes will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

"I believe we can reduce the number of thefts and burglaries in Lake County as we begin to deal with narcotics enforcement as a priority," Foreman said. "We have been awarded a federal grant to attack the narcotics problem."

What's happening to county crime

Crime is dropping in Lake County, says State's Atty. Fred L. Foreman. Although the 1987 rate shows a .6 percent increase over the preceding year, statistics of the past several years show a dramatic drop from 1979. Areas of increase are sexual assaults and theft.

Barbecue fundraiser: campaign for Farrell

State Representatives Grace Mary Stern and John S. Matijevich will speak in support of Grant B. Farrell, Democratic candidate for the 62nd District, at his fundraiser Saturday, August 20.

Stern (D-58th District) and Assistant House Majority Leader Matijevich (D-61st District), both veterans of the state legislature, are honorary chairpersons of Farrell's campaign.

"Building a Stronger Representation" is the theme of Farrell's campaign. "I am using local support for my campaign and will benefit from the experience of my supporters in the legislature," Farrell said. "This, in turn, will help me more effectively represent this county in Springfield."

Other guest speakers will include Lake County Clerk Linda Hess and Betty Ann Moore, Lake County Democratic chairperson.

The fundraising barbecue will be held at Farrell's home, 40357 N. Sunset Dr., Antioch, from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

Admission is by donation. For more information contact Farrell at 395-6546 or fund-raiser chairperson Scott Farrell, 395-3009.

Food for needy moms available

Low-income women and their children are encouraged to apply for the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) of the Lake County Health Dept. Women must be pregnant or nursing their baby. Children must be age four or younger.

The WIC Program provides nutritious food that are necessary for normal growth and development, such as cereal, formula, milk, cheese, eggs and juice. Food vouchers are prescribed by nutritionists and are redeemable at local grocery stores. Participants also receive individualized nutrition counseling and educational materials that can help with menu planning and budgeting.

The WIC Program is free to participants and does not affect any other assistance or benefits being received. Appointments can be made by calling (312)360-6781 or (312)360-6782. A variety of appointment times are available, including the noon hour and some early evening hours.

Grant for victims' survivors

The Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority has awarded the office of Lake County State's Atty. Fred L. Foreman $12,770 in federal funds to expand its services to the survivors of homicide victims.

The state's attorney's office will use the federal money, along with $4,257 in matching funds, to train staff and provide additional support services for the families of homicide victims.

The Lake County Victims Assistance in Homicide Cases program will develop a network of services in the community with private and public agencies, maintain a resource file for survivors of homicide victims, hold weekly sessions with clinical workers to assess survivor and victim issues, and assist survivors of homicide victims during the coroner's inquest.

"This program will allow us to counsel survivors long after the death of a loved one,"

Foreman said. "I am happy to see that the emphasis has shifted to greater concern to victims and not just defendants."

"Victims, including the survivors of homicide victims, are an essential part of the criminal justice system," said J. David Coldren, the authority's executive director. "By treating them fairly and compassionately we can avoid compounding the loss they have already suffered."

Lake County's program is designed to heighten the criminal justice system's response in dealing with the survivor's experience of the sudden death of a family member. The program aids the survivors of homicide victims throughout the periods of mourning, grieving and rage the survivors may feel at the heinous nature of the crime. The program also helps the survivors participate in the criminal justice system.

In addition, the program works with survivors of reckless homicide victims and persons severely or permanently injured as a result of a traffic offense.

COOLIDGE

By Landmark Designs

A central hexagon is the core of the Coolidge, containing all the public spaces for living, working and entertaining. A raised entry into the front facet of the hex leads directly into the large living room/dining room area. This is a bright open space, with tall windows looking out onto the rear deck and back side yards.

The kitchen, to the right of the entry at the front of the house, is entirely separate from the formal dining area. In addition to ample counter space, a garden window, pantry, and full set of appliances, the kitchen also provides casual living and eating space. The central island counter has built-in seating facing into a TV nook. This arrangement was adapted from a plan published in February's Better Homes and Gardens. It makes excellent use of the space, although many homeowners may want to preserve the option of designing the island as an eating bar, having conventional chairs facing the other way.

The master suite in the Coolidge fills the downstairs of a wing to the left of the hexagon. It contains a sleeping area, walk-in closet, double vanity and full bath. A small room in the same wing can serve as a den, guest room, or — with the addition of a door — a private office or sitting room for the master suite.

Two smaller bedrooms and another full bath are above the master suite. Conventional wisdom says the main bathroom should be upstairs for maximum privacy; however many of our readers with growing children say they want the option of living entirely on one floor once the kids leave the nest.

For a study plan of the Coolidge (228-111), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2832, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.
